There will be the chance to evaluate the product, give us your clinical opinion, participate in hands on working with the equipment so you can see how easy it is to adjust in the field and have a chance to ride the iLevel at 3mph in full raise. You will have the opportunity to talk to the CEO Scott Meuser and give him feedback on how you see the OT role and business and how we can help you better.

We will tailor the content of the seminar to allow us to contribute to your CPD file for product training and I am hoping to talk to you all about setting up a Quantum UK Clinician programme much like the one run by Quantum USA.

There will be lunch after, unlimited refreshments.....and the chance to enter a draw for two delegate places at PMG National Training Event at Leeds in July. This will be drawn on the day.

STOP PRESS : Also up for grabs will be the chance to enter another draw for the chance to win a spa day at the high class Bicester Hotel and Spa for two if you recommend a friend to come too.

Andy Haines, Quantum Director says "I really hope OT's & RE's can come as this is the first of many and you will have the chance to help us create a new forum for us to develop the best products we can do to support you in your objectives with clients. We want to develop the Quantum Clinical Training programme here in the UK and bring alternative controls and seating/positioning systems onto mainstream power wheelchairs, and OT's involvement is critical and most welcome"

Nick Allen, MD of Pride UK said "this is a really exciting time at Quantum, We have a new lead in Andy, great new products, and lots going on with Stealth. This is a brilliant opportunity for clinicians and colleagues to gather around and feedback to us and meet the CEO of the whole Pride business on his tour of European customers."
